Evolution, without a revolution

Veryant was born in Italy in 2005, opening a window on service innovation, ferrying companies over to new opportunities for the development of COBOL applications.

With isCOBOL, Veryant is an authoritative company with a substantial distribution network worldwide. Today, Veryant is relentlessly expanding and evolving company, with a substantial range of products and services for businesses.
Knowledge, first

Veryant is the ideal solution for those companies that need to develop or implement Java-integrated COBOL applications.
Today, Veryant runs by highly skilled staff, its R&D centre offers advanced solutions to its over 500 current and perspective clients, as well as developing new products that anticipate future requirements.
Cobol’s evolution, new lifeblood

Veryant is perfectly aware of the importance of COBOL for its clients. For this reason Veryant is always looking for innovative solutions that can open a window on the future, build new bridges with new technological solutions and offer user friendly products. That's the Veryant’s mission.
Consistent growth for farsighted vision

Any plan, any project is designed and developed, according to clear-cut criteria. A global widespread network, 5 million new isCOBOL users in the next few years and the widest portability of its products is the Veryant’s farsighted vision.
Innovative solutions that anticipate future market trends.

Veryant never fails to anticipate its clients’ needs and always offers a multitude of development opportunities. Veryant’s R&D centre work all the time to release new versions year after year, provide smarter web interfaces, exploit the most innovative styles and create support and porting for new environments.
Impeccable service wherever

Qualified and skilled branches
Highest quality standards
Understands global requirements

Having strong, qualified and skilled branches is a prerequisite to provide the highest quality standards. Veryant’s distribution network is growing all the time; any Regional Branch, Distributor, Reseller is a serious, dynamic organization that understands global requirements and has gained a substantial share of the market in its country.
Knowledge, accuracy experience: isCOBOL Evolve isCOBOL Evolve is the result of constant research, it is an innovative platform that knows how to blend the soundness of COBOL with the widest potentials of Java.

isCOBOL Evolve can provide the greatest portability of COBOL applications as well as offering an effective and efficient update and an easy migration process.